Pathway to Postgraduate Studies

The two-year Diploma of Tuina programme provides a pathway to enter the Bachelor of Health Science (Acupuncture) and or Chinese Herbal Medicine programmes.

Bachelor graduates, in addition to NZSATCM's own postgraduate Master of Health Science (Chinese Medicine) programme, have the opportunity to undertake Master's and Doctorate studies at our partner institutions:

- Southern Medical University, Guangzhou
- Guangzhou University of Chinese Medicine
- Hubei University of Chinese Medicine, Wuhan.

Career Opportunities

Graduates of our diploma of Tuina trend toward combining it with the Bachelor of Acupuncture and or the CHM diploma in practice. They establish private practices of their own, join or establish multidisciplinary practices or take advantage of flexible opportunities working as locums in existing Tuina practices.

Entry Criteria

- Minimum age of 18 at start of course
- open entry
- For international students if English is not the first language, IELTS academic score must be 6.0 with no band score lower than 5.5.

PC3663- Diploma of Tuina - Level 7

About the Programme

Tuina is Chinese medical massage. Our aim is to explore the theoretical and practical knowledge of Chinese medical massage in order to prepare graduates to practice Tuina in a contemporary, primary healthcare context alongside acupuncture and CHM, as part of the network of primary healthcare providers, tailoring treatments to the requirements of patients.

Course Content

The qualification is presented in a two-year program of study comprising TCM medical science, Western biosciences, Tuina specific theoretical studies and manual manipulation techniques.

Study Concurrently

The Diploma of Tuina is running concurrently with the Bachelor of Health Science, that is you can study full time in Bachelor's programme.

Most of the courses in the Diploma programme are the same as the Bachelor degree. Therefore, the courses are recognised as cross credits.

What does it mean for you?

You get two qualifications with the duration of four years of the Bachelor's programme.

The Diploma is adding to your main stream of Health Science with emphasis on Chinese Massage giving the extra skill required for your practise.

YEAR TWO - SEMESTER TWO

T-CLN-202: Clinical training

T-TCMT-202: TCM theory

T-TUIP-202: Tuina

T-DDX-202: Diagnosis

T-WMS-202: Pathology
